

Ref: British Cupping Society welcome letter

Dear fellow health professionals,

I am delighted to welcome you to the British Cupping Society (BCS). The BCS was established in response to the growing interest in Cupping Therapy amongst health professionals and the wider community.

The British Cupping Society has gained recognition both nationally and internationally as an organisation representing the practice of Cupping in the United Kingdom. Our aim is to preserve, protect, improve and promote the safe practice of Cupping for the benefit of society as a whole. The BCS provides leadership in the skills of Cupping by promoting an Evidence Based Approach to Cupping Therapy whilst upholding key traditional elements of the practice. In order to further these aims, we intend to implement our policies and plans to ensure the professional growth and success of Cupping.

The BCS is an autonomous body founded and managed by a team of qualified medical and health professionals. It utilises funds generated to promote the practice of Cupping Therapy through an array of activities, including research, lectures, seminars, conferences, TV appearances, courses and workshops.

Attached with this letter are details of the workshop and registration form for our next workshop. Please do visit our website (www.britishcuppingsociety.org) and register for free to receive latest information about the various BCS activities.

We look forward to your participation.

Yours Sincerely,

Hasan Abdulla

Ref: Cupping Therapy Workshop Overview

Dear Sir/Madam

Thank you for your interest in the 'Cupping Therapy: An Introduction' workshop that will be taking place on Saturday 24th September 2011 at St. George's, University of London, Medical School SW17 0RE.

This cupping workshop is unique; designed and managed by experienced Medical Professionals. It will encompass both theory and practice offering an excellent opportunity to gain 'hands-on' experience with the different types of Cupping Therapy on volunteer subjects, supervised by a team of specialists. The BCS team has decades of experience in alternative medicine. Having established themselves in the UK as Cupping Therapy specialists, our practitioners have earned international recognition. You will have a chance to observe, ask questions and then practice yourselves under their supervision.

Your participation will ensure that the workshop is interactive and enjoyable and, most importantly, beneficial. Our practitioners are aware that this will be the first exposure to Cupping Therapy for some, whereas others maybe more familiar with it, and thus the workshop has been carefully tailored to cater for all needs.

Overview of the workshop

Once you have registered, you will receive a pre-course material via email. You will see that the course has been split over a period of five days, the first four of which are self directed, introducing the fundamentals of Cupping, its origins and practice, and basic medical knowledge and hygiene. The final day of the workshop will conclude with practical application of Cupping.

Upon successful completion of the 'Introductory Workshop', participants will be invited to attend future more 'Advanced Cupping Therapy Workshops'. Details of these workshops will be given at the end of the 'Introductory Workshop'.

Who is this workshop designed for?

Exclusively for Health Professionals who:

- Have an interest in Alternative Medicine
- Are eager to broaden their portfolio and repertoire of skills
